

Summer Home Spotlight: $1.89M Lakeside Retreat in McCall, Idaho's Prestigious Whitetail Club

This four-season stealth hideaway, located just about two-hour drive from Boise in the hidden gem of McCall, Idaho, reflects a classic American family camp that is equal parts authentic, sophisticated and vibrant. Nestled among the trees in the private real estate community of Whitetail Club, this cabin sanctuary is the best in rustic-modern living with the majesty of a mountain-based retreat—paying homage to a time when things were simpler, organic and genuine.

Listed at $1.89 million, this luxurious cabin in the woods offers 4 bedrooms with en suite baths, a great room living area with gourmet's kitchen and additional loft office. An additional second building adds an extra 1358 sqft studio apartment, complete with over 2 extra-large garages that provides room for all the toys, totaling 4 bays plus a golf cart garage. The fenced formally landscaped yard is a summertime escape with expansive deck, fire pit & hot tub areas designed by Laidlaw Landscape Co. Additional perks offered as part of the Whitetail Club's residential membership include access to the newly built year-round lakeside Clubhouse, a 7,200-acre premiere golf course and entry to neighboring Shore Lodge Resort with luxurious amenities including delectable dining and The Cove, Idaho's premiere award-winning spa.

The destination of McCall, Idaho is one of this season's most unexpected summer hot spots. The quaint town is in the heart of the region's prized Salmon River Mountains and amidst a tranquil 5,330 acre Payette Lake - perfect for all the water sports an adventurer could ask for.
